

GIS/Geospatial Technology Adjuncts

1. Need is for teaching Geographic Information Systems courses in introductory mapping, intermediate spatial analysis, and Remote Sensing (in a GIS environment) for spring semester beginning January 18, 2022. Course curricula are provided to instructors in our Blackboard LMS.
 - Class Location and Time
 - Online (online training in Blackboard is provided by the college), AND/OR
 - Hybrid (at least 50% online content) in the evening (beginning at 5:30pm) at the Greene Center location in Beavercreek or the Xenia YMCA location.
 - Additional need for Remote Sensing instructor at Leffel Lane main campus for a hybrid class that meets on Wednesdays, 1:30-3:30pm.
 - Qualifications
 - Masters in Geographic Information Systems, OR
 - Masters in Geography (or other field) with significant graduate coursework, industry experience, or certificate in GIS.
 - Experience in Esri ArcGIS, specifically ArcGIS Desktop (ArcMap), strongly desired.
 - Collegiate teaching experience is preferred, but not required.